Former PM Manmohan Singh meets Dalai Lama New Delhi: India, on Tuesday, said former Prime Minister Manmohan Singh met Tibetan spiritual leader the Dalai Lama in New Delhi. The meeting between the 93-year-old Tibetan spiritual leader and Singh took place at the Tibetan Centre for Human Rights and Democracy. Singh also visited a school where an initiative to provide scholarships to Tibetan children was under way. "We met him at the Tibetan Centre for Human Rights and Democracy. We had a very cordial and friendly discussion in the morning," Singh told the media. "They are encouraging people all over the world to learn more about Tibetan culture and the Tibetan languages. It is good that they are doing it because it will help the Tibetans and also help our own culture," he said. This is the first time a former Prime Minister of India has met the Dalai Lama and has come to India four times since his exile in 1959. During his stay in India, he met Foreign Minister Sushma Swaraj and Swaraj voiced India's support to dialogue with China. Manmohan Singh will be in New Delhi for several months. Shortly after his visit to India, the Dalai Lama, who led a Tibetan spiritual movement against Chinese rule, embarked on a tour of the United States. Finance Minister Arun Jaitley said Singh's meetings will reinforce the "long term security and strong strategic relations with China." "Our relations with China and our engagements with China must be based on the foundations of truth, on the humanitarian principles and moral values. We must deal with China in a manner which is based on justice and fairness," Jaitley said.Q: PHP -> MySQL connection on server and on client I'm trying to make a chat webapp that only uses PHP as a platform of transmission (as in: no javascript). I'm still unsure if I'm on the right track for this: Would it be possible to have only the PHP file on the server connect to the MySQL database, and only the PHP file on the client connect to the MySQL database? I understand that you can use PHP to connect to a MySQL database, but is it possible to just connect to one server or the other? If the second option is possible, how do I get php to redirect the user to a certain page (
